

if xm can deliver accurate localized information i dont see why not let them satelite tv does it cable does it and probably can get better information